

The Apollo Theater in Harlem had an Amateur Night, during which anyone could enter for a chance to perform for a week with the band. Ella sang “The Object of My Affection” and won first prize.

Put together a short act for a Book Club Amateur Night. You can perform individually or team up and perform in small groups. You can sing, dance, recite a poem, perform a trick, or do anything else you enjoy. Take turns performing for the group.

