

1. Houndsley had a hard time knowing what to say to Catina after he read her book. What do you do when you have something difficult to share with a friend?
2. Catina is a vegetarian, which means she doesn't eat meat, so Houndsley cooked her tofu instead of worms. What are some other foods a vegetarian would enjoy eating?
3. Even though Houndsley had made his three-bean chili many times before, on the day of the cooking contest, everything went wrong. What caused this to happen?
4. Houndsley and Catina agree that if you don't have fun doing something, there is no point in doing it. Do you agree? What are some activities you have fun doing?
5. Houndsley and Catina discover that they are great at being each other's friends. What are some qualities of a good friend?

