

The book begins with Sona listing her family and loved ones. Draw your family and share something about them with the group.

